APPLICATION FOR PATENT TERM ADJUSTMENT UNDER 37 C.F.R. 1.705

Sir:

Pursuant to 37 C.F.R. 1.705, Applicant requests reinstatement of part of the term reduced pursuant to 1.704(b). This Application for Patent Term Adjustment is accompanied by the fee set forth in 1.18(e), a statement of the facts involved under 37 C.F.R. 1.705(b)(2), the fee set forth in 1.18(f), and a showing under 37 C.F.R. 1.705(c).

Statement of facts under 37 C.F.R. 1.705(b)(2)

(i) The correct patent term adjustment is believed to be 707 days.

Under 37 C.F.R. 1.702(a)(1), an adjustment of 727 days can be attributed to the Patent Office for failure to mail at least one notification under 35 U.S.C. 132 or a notice of allowance under 35 U.S.C. 151 not later than fourteen months after the date on which the application was filed. Under 37 C.F.R. 1.702(a)(2), an adjustment of 53 days can be attributed to the Patent Office for failure to respond to a reply under 35 U.S.C. 132 or to an appeal taken under 35 U.S.C. 134 not later than four months after the date on which the reply was filed or the appeal was taken. This gives a total of 780 days of delay attributable to the Patent Office. Under 1.704, a total of 73 days delay can be attributed to Applicant failure to respond to a notice or action within three months.

04/19/2006 WABDEL3 00000108 071969
01 FC:1455 200.00 DA
02 FC:1456 400.00 DA

(ii) Dates under 1.703(a) through (e) for which an adjustment is sought and the adjustment as specified in 1.703(f) to which the patent is entitled:

Patent Office Delay

June 15, 2000 [filing of application] – August 12, 2003 [mailing of non-final rejection] (727 days delay)

December 11, 2003 [response after non-final action] – June 3, 2004 [mail non-final rejection] (53 days delay)

The patent is entitled to a Patent Term Adjustment of 780 days due to Patent Office delay. This calculation is correct in the Patent Term Adjustment History [Exhibit A].

(iii) The patent application is subject to three terminal disclaimers [over US Patent 6,258,577; 6,277,337; and 6,843,961]. There is no expiration date specified in the terminal disclaimers. It is noted the term of a patent which issues from the instant patent application is not disclaimed if the prior patent referred to in a terminal disclaimer is terminated prior to the expiration of its full statutory term. Therefore, this correction of Patent Term Adjustment if necessary.

(iv) (A) Under 37 C.F.R. 1.704(b), a total delay of 73 days can be attributed to applicant for the period of time in excess of three months that are taken to reply to a notice or action by the Office making any rejection, objection, argument, or other request.

Applicant Delay

August 12, 2003 [mailing of non-final rejection] – December 11, 2003 [response after non-final action] (29 days delay)

September 1, 2004 [mail non-final rejection] – January 14, 2005 [response after non-final action] (44 days delay)

Showing under 37 C.F.R. 1.705(c)

The 133 day adjustment specified in the Term Adjustment History between the Mailing of a non-final rejection on June 3, 2004 and the response after non-final action filed on January 14, 2005 is incorrect.

The PAIR system indicated an applicant delay of 133 days beginning three months after the mailing date of a non-final rejection on June 3, 2005 [September 3, 2005] and ending on the date a response after non-final action was filed January 14, 2005. However, this delay calculation does not take into consideration the restarting period for response and the non-final rejection mailed September 1, 2004.

In this application, the non-final rejection mailed June 3, 2004 was exactly the same as the non-final rejection mailed August 12, 2003. The Supervisory Patent Examiner was contacted on August 12, 2004 regarding this issue. The Supervisory Patent Examiner indicated the non-final rejection mailed June 3, 2004 would be withdrawn and the time period for response would be reset [see Exhibit B]. There is a notation in the Patent Term Adjustment History of a Letter Restarting Period for Response on August 31, 2004 and the mailing of the notice of restarted response period on September 1, 2004. The mailing on September 1, 2004 is a non-final rejection [see Exhibit C]. The non-final rejection mailed on September 1, 2004 was responded to on January 14, 2005 [adjustment of 44 days due to applicant delay]. Therefore, 89 extra days of patent term extension should be provided.

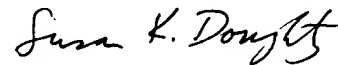

CONCLUSION

In view of the above arguments and evidence presented, it is believed the Patent Term Adjustment printed on the Notice of Allowance should be 707 days. Reconsideration and adjustment of the Patent Term Adjustment is respectfully requested.

If further information is required, please contact the undersigned.

Please deduct $600.00 (the fee set forth in 1.18(e) and 1.18(f)) from Deposit Account No. 07-1969. If this amount is incorrect, please deduct the appropriate amount or credit any overpayment to Deposit Account 07-1969.

INTERVIEW SUMMARY

Sir:

The Supervisory Patent Examiner Robert Warden is thanked for a telephone interview on August 12, 2004.

In the Interview, the Supervisor indicated the currently-pending Office Action (mailed June 3, 2004) would be withdrawn and the time period for response would be reset, in view of the fact that the currently-pending Office Action is a duplicate of the Office Action mailed August 12, 2003 and responded to by Applicant on December 11, 2003.
